The Reflector.

THURSDAY, MARCH 16, 1893.

RECENT REFLECTIONS.

An Abilene firm is getting deeply interested financially in the manufacture of galling guns. The breakout of a war will make the firm very wealthy.

Henry, the seven year old son of Mrs. Louise Timm, Logan township, died yesterday afternoon. Funeral services at Zion church this afternoon.

I. S. Hallam was elected member of the executive committee of the Kansas and Missouri Lumber Dealers' association at this Kansas City meeting.

G. W. C. Kohrer has a wild goose that he wounded and captured some time ago. Yesterday morning some tramps stole it and later in the day returned it and got a reward.

A. G. Eytz has sold his interest in his Enterprise drug store to J. A. Flack and is giving his attention to the creamery business. He has taken charge of the Solomon creamery.

The county treasury was examined today by the probate judge, Chas. Sherer and J. W. Gillet. Everything was found to be all right. Cash on hand, including bank deposits, $69,942.

Mrs. Arbutus committed suicide in Clay Center yesterday by shooting herself in the mouth with a 44 calibre revolver. Disappointment in family affairs was given as the cause of the act.

Levi Humbarger has just received a letter from Ed Little in which Ed says he is living high. He has a four story house all to himself, a great gang of Egyptian servants, meals in state, gets invited to all the pharaohs' receptions and high five parties and is generally rolling in luxury.

Class No. 7 of the Christian Sunday school gave one of its members, Mrs. Emma Hallweg, a surprise party last evening presenting her with an oak rocking chair. A number of the members of the church were present and refreshments were served. The evening was spent very enjoyably.

An Abilene marble dealer who went duck hunting yesterday is having a good deal of grief. He sighted some ducks on the river and crawled 20 rods on his hands, until he got within good shooting distance. Then he banged away with both barrels but to no effect for the ducks floated calmly on. Rising to see the cause of their stolidity the hunter discovered to his horror that he had been shooting at a lot of decoy ducks, anchored there by George Kohrer. He has tried to keep it quiet but some of the boys saw him and the story has cost him lots of cigars.

No change of diet with Tutt's Pills.

Two Deaths.

Mrs. Susan M. Bashore, wife of Geo. Bashore, Cheever township, aged 19, died last night. Funeral at German Baptist church tomorrow, Rev. Samuel Zook officiating.

The one year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Winger, Cheever township, died this morning. Funeral tomorrow.

Ice Cream Parlors.

Lovers of good ice cream will be pleased to know that J. M. Brenizer will reopen his ice cream parlor in the old location on Buckeye avenue where during the season he will serve that famous Brenizer cream which Abilene has always praised. He is now ready to fill special orders for parties, etc., for cream and orders left at Brumm & Volkman's store will receive prompt attention. Mr. Brenizer will give his customers thorough satisfaction. He has always done so in the past and will be better prepared now than ever.

Hill Kaufman.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Kaufman, on East Sixth street there was a pleasant wedding last evening when Miss Belle Kaufman and Charles H. Hill, formerly of this city, but now of Emporia, were made husband and wife. Rev. W. H. Zimmerman, of Holton, officiating. There were present only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom with a few friends as invited guests but the evening was nevertheless one of unalloyed pleasure. After the ceremony came dainty refreshments and the inspection of many pretty and valuable presents. The mandolin club gave the newly married couple a serenade and then goodbyes were said and Mr. and Mrs. Hill took the Santa Fe train for Emporia where they go to housekeeping at once.

Both the young people have many friends in Abilene and Dickinson county who will extend heartiest congratulations. Good wishes in abundance will follow them to their new home.

Fail to Do Their Duty.

Everybody has at times fail to do their duty towards themselves. Hundreds of lady readers suffer from sick headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and female troubles. Let them follow the example of Mrs. H. Herbechter, Stevens Point, Wis., who for five years suffered greatly from nervous prostration and sleeplessness, tried physicians and different medicines without success. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine caused sound sleep every night and she is feeling like a new person. Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Laramie City, Wyoming, who tried all other remedies, declares that after three weeks' use of the Nervine for headache, nervous prostration, etc., she was entirely relieved. Sold by J. M. Gleasoner, Trial bottle free.

ALMOST CHAPTER XVII.

Another Case of Abilene Men Gone Wrong Averted.

Another case of Abilene men gone wrong has been narrowly escaped and the Reflector's thrilling serial has barely missed having another chapter. The following dispatch from the St. Louis Republic tells the story:

DIXON, Ill., March 8.—Charles D. Kelley left here about two weeks ago. He told his wife he was going to Kansas where he had bought out a photograph gallery, and that when he got there he would send for her and the children. A few days ago Mrs. Kelley received a telegram from him at Chicago, saying that hereafter she would have to look out for herself as he would do no more for her. Yesterday she had a letter from him which said about the same thing. Kelley was a painter and doing a good business here, and it is not known what is the cause of his peculiar conduct. Before leaving he sold his painting business and his house and lot. Mrs. Kelley had not yet signed the deed of sale to the house when she received the telegram, and will not do so now. This, of course, will be of some help to her in supporting the family, which consists of five little girls, the eldest one only nine years of age. The house, however, had a mortgage attached to it for $500. Kelley paid most of his debts before going, but tried to get away without paying his taxes, and would have succeeded had not the tax collector gone to his house just as he was preparing to go and demanded and got them. Kelley was a man of little character.

Kelley is the man who purchased Hansbrough's gallery and then so suddenly resold it to its old proprietor. He appeared gentlemanly and straightforward but proved to be a poor financier, as he sold his gallery for $150 less than he paid for it. In view of the above facts Abilene may congratulate itself that he did not become a permanent fixture of the town.

Hood's Cures.

In saying that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures, make no idle or extravagant claim. Statements from thousands of reliable people prove that Hood's cures. Hood's Pills assist digestion.

A Unique Gift.

The Wells Fargo Express Co. has made every agent in its employ happy by the gift of a souvenir Columbian half dollar, a remembrance as unique as it is costly and generous. It is needless to say that the recipients of the coins properly appreciate the present. Agent Estes, of Abilene, will keep his for a pocketpiece. The Wells Fargo company has become a model of accurate and careful work in transportation and has proved itself a corporation believing in equity and justice both to its employees and the public. Its president, J. J. Valentine, is a man of rare executive ability and the enormous increase in the company's business proves its popularity.

The use of Hall's Hair Renewer promotes the growth of the hair, and restores its natural color and beauty, free the scalp of dandruff, tetter, and all impurities.

The people of this vicinity insist on having Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and do not want any other. Says John V. Bishop, of Portland Mills, Indiana. That is right. They know it to be superior to any other for colds, and as a preventive and cure for croup, and why should they not insist upon having it? 50c bottles for sale by W. P. Gulick, the druggist.

What Avarice Will Do.

There was a case in the probate court yesterday afternoon that well illustrates how avarice can conquer filial respect. It was the trial of Hannah Herbage, of Manchester, on a charge of insanity. The woman had lived with her daughter in Saline county who had her put in the poor house. A son got work on the Santa Fe at Manchester and took his mother to live with him. The old lady was subject to epileptic fits but otherwise was well and he took good care of her. A short time ago she was allowed a pension of $8 a month with $200 back pay as a soldier's widow. Citizens of Manchester gave her a lot and a little house was built and she was getting along nicely when the daughter, thinking evidently that $8 was too much cash for the old lady, filed a complaint of insanity. About a dozen witnesses were summoned but the case was dismissed. The witnesses are wondering where their pay comes in and why people will be so avaricious.

Fell Dead.

These words are very familiar to our readers, as not a day passes without the report of the sudden death of some prominent citizen. The explanation is "heart disease." Therefore beware if you have any of the following symptoms: Short breath, pain in side, smothering spells, swollen ankles, weak and hungry spells, asthmatic breathing, tenderness in shoulder or arm, fluttering of heart or irregular pulse. These symptoms mean heart disease. The most reliable remedy is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which has saved thousands of lives. Book of testimonials free at J. M. Gleasoner, who also sells the New Heart Cure.

Electric Bitters.

The remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. ### $100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity, catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitutional and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Robert Barber, of Cookeport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for lung trouble. Nothing like it. Free trial bottles at J. M. Gleasoner Drugstore. It cured me in three days. ### FOR HIGHER EDUCATION.

Women Are Forcing Their Way Through University Barriers.

Since the proposition made by President Eliot to include the Harvard annex as a part of the college proper, if sufficient funds could be raised to meet the expense incurred, and to grant the regular degree to its graduates, fresh interest centers about this institution and its peculiar relations to the famous man's university. Harvard is one of the most conservative as well as the oldest of the great educational institutions in this country. As a college founded by men for men, it was strongly opposed to co-education, and, though women were allowed to take the regular examinations from members of the faculty, and acquired themselves creditably, the doors of the university were barred against them, and students and professors alike resisted the innovation of their presence. It is about fourteen years now since the annex was founded by friends of the higher education of women, and a class of scarcely more than a score, under a faculty of forty from the college, set the thin edge of the wedge against the barriers of conservatism.

The courses of study are, as far as possible, identical with those pursued by men in the college. The examinations are conducted in the same way. But the recognition of scholarship, the coveted degree, is still withheld, and only a certificate, stating that the graduate has satisfactorily performed the work required by Harvard college for its first degree, may be gained. Now the annex registers two hundred and sixty students and has a faculty of eighty professors and instructors. The number of its directors has more than doubled since the seven women who were selected in the first year accepted the responsibilities. For the past two years the Sargent which is offered for the best medical version of one of Horace's odes, and which is open for competition both to the university and the annex, has been carried off by women. It was through the energy and perseverance of a woman that the observatory which at that time did not grant its privileges to the men, was opened to the annex students. So satisfactory was the work of this first woman pupil that the professor in charge decided to offer two courses each year to women. At Vassar, at Smith, and at Michigan university are instructors who were graduates of this course.

Somewhat recently a young woman, desiring to study Arabic, applied to the faculty of the college for permission and received the usual answer that the doors of the university were closed to women. With the refusal, however, there came a private note from the president suggesting that if she wished to listen to the lectures as a guest both he and the Arabic professor would be happy to have her. She is now a constant guest at two lectures, with no tuition fees. What woman has done woman will do, and the venerable institution will yet welcome women, not only as guests, but as regular students.

Though the trustees of Johns Hopkins university have accepted with graceful courtesy the terms and conditions made by Miss Garrett for the continuance of her gift to the institution, the resolutions passed admit women only to the medical department. It is about two years now since the trustees promised to open a post-graduate medical school at the university to which men and women should be admitted on equal terms whenever $500,000 should be subscribed for the purpose. Committees of women took the matter in hand, but failed to raise the required amount until Miss Mary Garrett, of Baltimore, added $500,000 to the generous fund she had contributed before, on a certain condition which must be maintained or the money reverts to Miss Garrett and her heirs. A committee of six women, which committee shall fill its own vacancies, is to have charge of questions affecting the women medical students. The general attitude of the faculty and trustees has been to exclude women from these courses, but within the last year a number of special exceptions have been made, in which permission was granted individually, the women thus admitted not being enrolled on the register nor admitted to the examinations. Miss Christine Ladd, a graduate of Wellesley, was the first woman admitted, and followed courses for three years in mathematics. Two other women in mathematics, one in geology, two in chemistry, and one in physics have been admitted in the last three years. Miss Bascom, the geological student last year, accompanied Prof. Williams in a part of his survey of the Blue Ridge mountains, and a district was assigned to her five miles square, which she examined and reported with the thoroughness required of men who offer themselves for the degree of Ph. D. in the department of geology.—N. Y. Sun.

Teach Girls How to Use Money.

Would it not be wise if some exercises in the mysteries of money were added to the curriculum of every girl's studies? A boy finds it all out by actual contact with the public as soon as he is out and a part of it, but a girl may become a mature woman, shrinking from them through the habit of long protection, and be thrown on the mercies of the world with her money to fall a prey to the first cheat and cozen. She is taught at school the spectra of the stars and the map of Mars; what a pity she should not be instructed in the workings of life on the planet in which she lives! That a knowledge of the nature and meaning and care of money should be made a part of every girl's education is growing more and more evident in this age of enlargement and prosperity, which puts money into the hands of so many women. And in the coming century, the woman's century, as it is already called, in which so many women will be workers and earners of money, it is all the more important, in order that they may be neither handiapped nor too far outstripped, that they should be well instructed as to business movements and investments, that they may be directed in the right way before they set out to earn.—Harper's Bazar.
